

FORMER SENATOR SHELBY M. CULLOM DIES AT HIS HOME IN WASHINGTON

Last Wish Was That He Might Have Seen Lincoln
Memorial Completion

LONG PUBLIC SERVICE

Cullom's Death Brings to Close
Life of One of Illinois' Best Known Veteran Statesmen

TO BE BURIED IN SPRINGFIELD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Former Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois died here today after an illness of more than a week, during which he hovered between life and death. His last words were a wish that he might have lived to see the completion of the national memorial to Abraham Lincoln who was his personal friend.

Since his retirement from the senate last March Mr. Cullom has been resident commissioner of the commission created by congress to build the $2,000,000 Lincoln memorial. A little more than a week ago he was taken sick. His advanced age put his recovery beyond hope but his wonderful vitality postponed the end from one sinking spell to another. He was 85 years old and had a record of fifty years of continuous public service.

The former senator's last hours were divided between spells of unconsciousness and short intervals in which he recognized those at his bedside. Although his wonderful vitality had sustained life from hour to hour it became apparent early today when he could take no nourishment that the end was not far off. Funeral arrangements had not been made today but he probably will be buried in Illinois.

Later today it was decided to have a brief funeral service at the Cullom home in Massachusetts avenue at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and take the body to Springfield, Ill., on a train leaving at 11:45 a. m., where the former senator's first and second wives and all his children are buried.

Funeral in Springfield.
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—Funeral services over the remains of Senator Shelby M. Cullom will be held in this city at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the representative hall at the state house.

The obsequies will be conducted by the Rev. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, formerly of Washington, D. C. Memorial addresses will be made by United States Senator Lawrence F. Sherman, Governor Edward F. Dunne and Hon. Clinton L. Conkling. When the casket arrives it will be taken to the residence of Mrs. Charles Ridgely and later it will be removed to the state house where the body will lie in state in the first floor rotunda. Arrangements at the capital will be in charge of George B. Stoddard and General Frank S. Dickson. A detail militia will be stationed at the capital.

Officers of the Bar association of Sangamon have arranged for a public memorial service in the circuit court room. The time for this service has not yet been set.

Issues Statement.
When informed today of the death in Washington of former Senator Shelby M. Cullom, Governor Edward F. Dunne issued a statement in which he said in part:

"In the death of Senator Cullom, the citizenship of Illinois has suffered a signal loss. For fifty years this remarkable man occupied public positions of honor and trust and even his most bitter political foe must concede he carried those honors and performed those trusts faithfully and honorably. The best proof of this is that he passed through the fiery ordeal of holding public office without ever having been accused of enriching himself in public life and died comparatively poor. The grafter and corruptionist never dared approach this honest son of Illinois and he remained a shining exemplar of honesty in official life.

He merited and will receive the verdict of having been a faithful servant of the people. He should receive the honor of a public funeral from the officials and citizens of Illinois."

Shelby Moore Cullom's death ended fifty years of continuous public service that had made him a figure in American national life and brought him into official relations with every president from Abraham Lincoln to Woodrow Wilson. President Taft once said of him:

"Why here my old friend Uncle Shelby; he comes near connecting the present with the days of Washington than any one else whom I know."

As a ploughboy driving his father's oxen over the fresh prairie of Illinois he had known and talked with survivors of the revolution and on the rugged foundations of a life begun in pioneer hardships of a family of twelve children had built a career that took him to the Illinois legislature as a member; speaker of the assembly, two terms in the governor's chair, service in the National House of Representatives, and thirty consecutive years in the United States senate.

Older Than Joseph Cannon. His nearest living contemporary probably is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, whose senior he was some seven years by birth and some three years in public service. Andrew Jackson was president of the United States when Mr. Cullom was born in 1829 down in the Elk Spring Valley of Kentucky, near the Cumberland where the Culloms of Maryland and the Coffeys of North Carolina, drifting westward with the tides of immigration that set in at the close of the revolution, founded their early home.

"During the year 1829," Mr. Cullom recently wrote to illustrate the epoch in which he began life, "The Crown of Great Britain descended from King George the Fourth to King William the Fourth; that reign passed away and I have lived to see the long reign of Victoria come and go; the reign of King Edward come and go and the accession of King George the Fifth. Charles the Fifth ruled in France, Francis the First in Austria, Frederick William the Third in Prussia, Nicholas the First in Russia, while Leo the Twelfth governed the papal states, the Kingdom of Italy not yet having come into existence. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland had not yet a population of 24,000,000 at all. No man who had not served his country in some capacity in the Revolutionary war had been elevated to the presidency of the United States and this was the case until 1843."

Stirring Times in This Country.
Times and events in his own country were no less stirring and his part in them was a marked one. Kentucky was a slave state at his birth, the controversy which was to hatch into a great civil war was in the process of incubation, in fact the Culloms moved to Illinois to be in a free state and Chicago then was a small village. The elder Cullom was then a friend of Lincoln's, recommending the struggling backwoods lawyer to prospective clients. Young Cullom's first recollection of the future war president was under such circumstances. Scraping together the rudiments of an education gained by toiling over rough primarials he became successively a student at Mount Morris academy, a country school teacher and a lawyer, being admitted to the bar at Springfield in 1855.

Record is Unchallenged.
When he became city attorney of Springfield he launched upon a political career, which for a record of unbroken service, is unchallenged as exceeding that of any other American. Among his first political experiences was the novelty of being elected and defeated at the same election. He was elected to the legislature and defeated as an elector on the Fillmore ticket. Then came the historic Lincoln and Douglas debates and Cullom's intimate association with Lincoln, whom he followed into the ranks of the Republican party. He presided over the session of the Illinois house at which after Fort Sumter had been fired upon, Stephen A. Douglas appeared and made his dramatic plea for the preservation of the union. During the first of President Lincoln's second term Mr. Cullom came to the national house of representatives and began a work which was practically interrupted only when he served two terms as governor of Illinois. Lincoln was assassinated soon after Cullom entered Washington life and the young legislator was a member of the committee that demanded the return of the president's body to Springfield. Then when the country began to recover from what section set in with the reconstruction act in 1865, Cullom began his service with the Illinois delegation, and with such colleagues in congress as Logan, Wentworth, Blaine, Conkling and Hayes and

PRESIDENT SHAW RESENTS RESOLUTION

HEAD OF HECLA MINE ASSERTS RESOLUTION IS AIMED AT ONE SIDE

Resolution Recently Adopted by Congress For Investigation of Michigan Copper Strike is Prompted by Shaw—Cooperation Resented.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—In a statement issued here tonight Quincy A. Shaw, president of the Calumet, Hecla mining company of Michigan, regrets and resents the resolution recently adopted by congress for the investigation of the Michigan copper strike. Mr. Shaw says the action proposed would prolong the semblance of the strike.

The investigation is not desirable declares Mr. Shaw, because the terms of direction which congress gives in the resolution are unfairly aimed at one side of the controversy and excludes from investigation the notorious disorders and bloodshed inspired by the leaders of the strike.

The co-operation is promised the committee in the statement. The investigators are offered every facility to ascertain facts hoping that "in the interest of justice the committee will familiarize the American people with the character of the Western Federation of Miners."

"No charge has been made which the courts are not competent to investigate," the statement says, "now congress proposes to abandon its functions as a legislative body and investigate them as a grand jury."

COLLIE'S FONDNESS FOR BABY BELIEVED CAUSE OF CHILD'S DEATH

Seven Months Old Baby Placed in Bath Tub by Nurse is Found Drowned When Care-taker Returns.

New York, Jan. 28.—A Scotch Collie's fondness for a seven months old baby is believed today to have been the indirect cause of the child's death by drowning in the bath tub of a Bronx borough home last night.

At the inquest today into the death of the infant, Gladys Leak, it developed the baby had been left alone in the house by her nurse with only the dog for company, the precaution taken for the little one's safety being to place her in the bath tub cushioned with blankets and pillows.

The collie, it is believed, pressed its paw on the spigot handle when peering into the tub to look at its baby friend and started the water running. The baby was found drowned when the care-taker returned.

FOUR OF SIX ARRESTED IN CHICAGO RIOT DEMAND JURY TRIALS

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Of the six men arrested in disturbances among the unemployed here last night four demanded jury trials today, one was dismissed and the sixth Samuel Rosenberg, was fined $50 and costs. A policeman testified that Rosenberg made incendiary appeals to the crowd. Smaller assemblages at the police court and at workmen's hall today were ably controlled by the police.

Captain Storen turned over to the postoffice authorities an anonymous threat, embellished with a skeleton drawn in red ink to blow up the Maxwell Street police station unless all the men arrested last night were released.

CHAOTIC CONDITIONS.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 28.—Chaotic business conditions in Cananea and other towns in Sonora, Mexico were reported today to have followed discovery that a large part of $250,000 of unsigned constitutionalist currency, lost in transit from New York recently, had been placed in circulation.

ATTACK SONORA FORCES.
Nogales, Jan. 28.—Two federal columns attacked state forces in Sonora today, according to official constitutionalist despatches received here. Seven federals were killed, including a colonel.

WILSON MAY RAISE EMBARGO ON ARMS TO REBEL FORCES

Washington Government Strongly Inclined to Take Such Course Soon

TO SUPPORT PRESIDENT

Leaders in Congress and Cabinet Ready to Support Wilson
Should He Raise the Embargo

GEN. VILLA NOT AMBITIOUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The ever-recurring appeal of the Mexican constitutionalists that they be permitted to purchase arms in the United States on an even footing with the Huerta government may soon be granted. Though President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have reached no final determination on that point the Washington government today is strongly inclined to such a course as the next step in its Mexican policy. Informal inquiry among prominent administration officials today disclosed the fact that practically the entire cabinet many members of the senate foreign relations committee and many of the leaders in congress generally are ready to support the president should he raise the embargo on arms.

The recent defalcation by the Huerta government of the interest on its bonds the growing anxiety of European nations about the financial affairs of Mexico and the declared intention of the constitutionalists to carry the fighting into the thickly populated cities of central Mexico are said to be underlying reasons for some further development of the American policy.

The president is giving serious consideration to the question is apparent not alone from the trend of his talk to the senate foreign relations committee but from the evidence which daily has been coming to the Washington government of the disadvantage to which a denial of arms has put the constitutionalists. The latter have argued that whatever might be the sympathies of the United States toward the Mexican factions they have by forbidding exportation of arms into Mexico helped Huerta. The chief argument being placed before President Wilson now is that the Huerta government has experienced little difficulty in buying munitions of war.

The reason for the president's refusal of arms to both factions was a desire to not to add to the bloodshed. Though there was no understanding with foreign governments about expectations of arms, the United States hopes the embargo on funds would be extended to munitions of war.

The failure of this to materialize and the persistent determination of the constitutionalists to obtain arms by the slow process of over coming garrisons have prolonged the struggle beyond the expectations of the Washington government. The view among officials to give arms to both sides on an equality would end the revolution quickly in favor of the constitutionalists proceeds from the belief that the latter have more men available for service and are financially better able to obtain supplies than is the Huerta regime.

Before finally passing on the question it is believed the American government would seek some assurance that the lives and property of all foreigners would be respected and that arms would not be permitted to fall into the hands of irresponsible hands. Official Washington gossiped considerably today on stories that the Huerta government was getting arms from Japan and that this phase of the situation was discussed at the conference on Monday between the president and the senate foreign relations committee.

"An old story," was the white house view expressed through Secretary Tammany.

Published reports that Japan, through the trip of the officers of the Cruiser Izumo to Mexico City and their acceptance of a five day celebration at the hands of Huerta government was perplexing the administration brought no formal comment but unofficially it was learned the administration regards the incident as not different from the visits of the British and German naval officers recently to the Mexican capital.

Will Obey Carranza.
Juarez, Mex., Jan. 28.—General Francisco Villa, military commander of the rebel forces, today disclaimed any ambition to become president of Mexico in event the revolution is successful.

He said that although his victories against the Huerta forces at Ojinaga and Chihuahua had attracted attention to himself he did not wish to overshadow General Carranza whom he recognized as the leader of the revolution.

"Should General Carranza become president," he said, "I will follow him."

WITNESS IDENTIFIES BLACKMAILERS' SIGN

SKULL AND CROSS BONES USED BY
GANG OF N. Y. BLACKMAILERS

Gang Has Long Terrorized Residents of the East Side—Under Cross Examination the Witness Tells of His Own Criminal Acts as a Member of Gang.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The skull and cross as the sign with which members of the gang of blackmailers that has terrorized the East Side stamped their letters of threat, was identified on the stand in the Court of General Sessions today by Anthony Sadatys, called by the prosecution as a witness in the trial of Angelo Sylvestro, accused as a blackmailer. Sadatys testified that he had seen a block of wood fashioned with leather cut in the form of skull and bones in the possession of the leader of the gang.

Under cross-examination the witness, known among his fellows as "Burke" told of his own criminal acts as a blackmailer. After serving time in a state reformatory, Sadatys who is only 21 years old said he earned his living by stealing horses and wagons and by committing burglary.

"How many bombs did you shoot?"

"About thirty five or forty," he replied. "I don't just remember. Some places I shot twice."

Sadatys told of a saloon where the "bosses" made bombs and of the mechanics who receive them and started out to "shoot" the explosives at places where persons had not given the gang money. Bombs were carried through the city streets in paper bags, said the witness and dynamite in suit cases. The prosecution plans to close its case tomorrow.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN WILL BE GIVEN CHANCE AT HONEST WORK

Society Will Find Employment for All at Minimum Wage of $8 Per Week.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—All the women of the segregated districts of this city who will be willing to take honest employment after the closing of the resorts by the police on March 1st, will be hired for various tasks at a minimum wage of $8 a week.

This statement was made in an address here today by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, D. C., superintendent of the International Reform Bureau. The speaker said the women would be found work by a society recently organized for the purpose by Stanley Finch, who is in charge of the federal campaign against white slavery. The social evil is a direct expense of $21 a year to every family in the United States whether living in the city or country, Dr. Crafts told the city club.

"In addition to this, twelve per cent of all disease is traceable to the evil."

NEW YORK'S IDLE HOLD MEETING IN COOPER UNION

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Three hundred of the city's unemployed both men and women met in Cooper Union today and demanded work.

"Men and women go idle, while children work," announced one of their banners. Miss Malinda Scott of the Women's Trades Union League, who presided said it was the business of the nation, the state and the city to provide employment for their citizens. A letter from a young girl, read at the meeting denounced philanthropists, "who build homes and refuges for the wayward but overlook entirely the conditions that make them 'backward'."

SHERIFF ROGERS WILL SEEK WOODSON MURDERER WITH BLOOD HOUNDS TODAY

WILL TAKE TRAIL FROM WHERE JOHN HENRY IS BELIEVED TO HAVE RESTED AFTER TRAGEDIES

Empty Shells Found Near Crain Home Indicate That Fugitive Reloaded Weapon Which Took Three Human Lives—Special Deputies Guard Homes of His Victims—Mrs. Henry Tells of Encounter with Husband and Declares He Was Intoxicated.

John W. Henry, who Tuesday night shot and killed Charles Ezard, Everett E. Crain and Howard Crain is still a fugitive. All efforts made yesterday by Sheriff Rogers, his deputies and by various citizens of the Woodson neighborhood to locate him failed. This morning however blood hounds will be taken to Woodson from Springfield in the hope that they may give some aid in indicating the direction taken by Henry when he disappeared after the awful tragedies of Tuesday night.

Find Spot Where Henry Rested.
Searchers yesterday morning found a spot a half mile east of the Crain home near the railroad where it is believed that Henry sat down. What seems to be the imprint of the butt of a shotgun shows in the earth there and the hope is that the dogs may be able to take the trail from this point. Empty shells found just outside the gate at the Crain residence indicate that Henry reloaded his weapon after firing the shots that killed Mr. Crain and his little son. This fact has tended to increase the alarm of the Woodson people and many have the feeling that Henry may be lurking somewhere in the vicinity and will yet seek to take the life of his wife and perhaps other.

The funeral of Mr. Ezard, Mr. Crain and Howard Crain will be held Friday morning at the Christiana church in Woodson. The inquest will be conducted by Coroner Wright either Saturday or Monday. He deferred the holding of this inquiry a few days because he thought those most concerned were not yet in condition of mind to appear on the witness stand.

Special Deputies on Guard.
In order to give all needed protection and with the hope of quieting fears Sheriff Rogers had two men placed on guard at the Ezard home and two at the Crain home for the night. Mrs. Henry during the day went to the home of her father, G. A. Megginson and the Henry children are at the home of their grandfather Charles Henry. The special deputies on guard during the night were T. M. Whitlock and Taylor Asher at the Ezard home and Jasper Shelton and Louis Wahl at the Crain home.

Early Wednesday morning Sheriff Rogers and Deputy Sheriff Todd searched the home of John Henry on the theory that he might have taken refuge there during the night or that he might have returned there for some purpose. A thorough search was made of the premises but no evidence could be found that Henry had been there and in fact everything about the house indicated that it was just in the condition in which the children left it when they went to the Ezard home after the tragedy there.

The gloom which spread over all of the Woodson neighborhood when the facts of the murders became known has not yet been lifted. Business was practically at a standstill yesterday and the sole theme of conversation was the tragedy. In fact the awfulness of Henry's crime seemed if anything to have come to the people of the village and the neighborhood with a new force Wednesday. There were probably twenty men who volunteered to aid the sheriff and his deputies in making the search Wednesday morning which covered the country for several miles about the village. The search was not renewed in the afternoon but the Sheriff sent descriptions of Henry to various cities and towns and a line of inquiry was started to see if any trace could be found of his having boarded a train or having appeared in any other part of the country.

Henry Sought Liqueur Here.
While there are residents of Woodson who do not believe that Henry had been drinking prior to his crimes the statement of Mrs. Henry that he was under the influence of liquor is borne out by the fact that while in Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon he tried to get liqueur. He went to the office of Drs. Wilber and Carter and asked for a drink of whisky. When informed that they could not give him any such thing, the man begged for it and did not leave until convinced that there was no chance of getting liqueur there. The veterinarians suggested to Henry that there was no use in trying to get a drink in dry Jacksonville and that he would be better off without it any how.

From this office it is said that Henry went to the store of Ande & Andre where he purchased two mattresses and a carpet sweeper. Later it is understood that he made a deposit at the Jacksonville National bank and then went to the station and took the 3:55 train for home. Mrs. Henry's statement is that her husband at times used liqueur freely but that he had abstained for practically three months until Tuesday, when she knew from his actions after his return from Jacksonville that he had been drinking.

No Motive Unearthed.
It is usually true following such a crime as that which has paralyzed the people of Woodson and shocked all of Morgan county that there come varied stories to suggest a motive. But in this instance the opposite is true and the day following the tragedies the people seemed far as ever from having any correct idea of what could so suddenly turn John Henry into a very demon. Probably no man in the neighborhood had more friends or was more generally esteemed. He was a successful farmer and stock man and was accounted as one of the substantial men of the community. The people yet can hardly realize that he could be guilty of such crimes and no man yet has come forward with a story or even a hint which would provide any tangible motive for the crimes. The very conduct of the man when in Jacksonville, making purchases for his own household indicates that there was no premeditated intention to do the killing. Then too he had made plans to be at the elevator [Wednesday morning] to settle for some corn. With a brain numbed by some kind of liquor, when there came the slight difference between husband and wife there must have sprung up a sudden and insane hate. After the killing of his long time friend, Charles Ezard, there seems to have been a very just for blood the desire to take vengeance for some fancied wrong. Yet as indicated there has been brought forward yet nothing which shows any substantial motive for the attempt to kill Mrs. Henry, or the murder of Mr. Ezard and Mr. Crain. It is the commonly accepted theory that the killing of the Crain lad was wholly accidental and still no act of the murderer seems to have touched more hearts. The very ruthlessness of shooting down an innocent child cannot be condoned. There would be no possible theory to explain it other than accident or insanity.

Possible Theory for Shooting of Crain.
The shooting of Everett Crain is the mysterious part of the affair as it was so deliberate but a gentleman of Woodson gave a possible clue to that. He said that a while back John Henry sold Mr. Crain a heifer and agreed to deliver the animal at $40.00. He drove her to Mr. Crain's farm but the latter was not at home. Mrs. Crain, sister of Mr. Henry's father told him to leave the heifer and Mr. Crain would pay him all right but he preferred to drive her back home.

On the way back he met Mr. Crain who asked him where he was going with the heifer when the following alleged conversation took place:

"Where are you going with the heifer?" Mr. Crain asked.

"I am taking her home."

"Why didn't you leave her?"

"Because you were not there."

"She only cost you $35.00 and I think you ought to let me have her for that."

"It's nothing to you if she only cost me ten cents; you agreed to pay me $40.00 for her."

"I don't think you ought to charge me $40.00."

"What is it to you; you agreed to pay $40.00."

"Even if I did I think you should let me have her for $35.00."

"Look here, Mr. Crain; you have beaten one Henry out of $50.00 and you are not going to beat me."

"I don't want to beat you."

"Then why don't you give me the $40.00 for the heifer as you agreed?"

"Because she only cost you $35.00 and that's all I will pay you. You have no business to charge me any more."

"See here, if you are going to get sassy, I'll get down and pull your beard."

Other warm words were used and the men separated but it is said that Everett Crain, Crain's son-in-law, commented on the transaction, or what was intended to be a transaction, quite unfavorably and that may have aroused Henry's ire.

All Wednesday morning the sheriff's posse and neighbors scoured the country round about thinking to find Henry's dead body but without avail. Tuesday night it was a very general opinion that Henry would take his own life long before morning but if he did it he betook himself to a very out of the way place for the purpose. There were no tracks and no clues whatever regarding his whereabouts. He had on a black cap, Sweet-Orr overalls and rubber boots. Some thought it probable that he would go to his brother "Ma" in the stockyards in East St. Louis but the brother called on Woodson people over the long distance telephone Wednesday morning and said he was entirely ignorant regarding John's whereabouts.

and cried like a child while he was talking.

Mrs. Henry Tells of Shooting.
To a Journal reporter, Mrs. Henry, wife of John Henry, said substantially Wednesday morning:

"My husband was always kind hearted and good in his family; he was successful in business and a good provider, kind to myself and the children when he was sober. I am certain he had not taken any liquor for three months before Tuesday. He was about home and went up to Jacksonville on a freight and returned on the passenger. He must have gotten his liquor in 'dry Jacksonville.' When he came home, I saw there was something wrong with him. He went into the sitting room and sat by the fire and had nothing to say to anyone. I prepared supper and looking in saw him sitting by the fire dozing. When supper was ready I told the children to call him but he didn't come. I then asked him myself if he didn't want his supper and he said 'no.'"

"The rest of us ate and I did up the work and I took pains to keep children from disturbing him hoping he would go to sleep and eventually wake up all right. I stood out on the porch and was standing there when the children called to me to look out for papa had a gun in his hand. (Mr. Henry's house is right by the Chicago & Alton tracks about a mile south of Woodson. His father lives by the track on the opposite side of the railroad a few rods north and a little way north on the same side as John Henry's house is the home of Charles Ezard.)"

"I feared for my safety and started for Father Henry's house but my husband went faster than I along the track so I kept off the track and went on to Mr. Ezard's for I was afraid to cross the track ahead of him which I would have been obliged to do if I had gone to the home of his father. I went to Mr. Ezard's house, went in at the back porch to the room where the family were at supper and sat down at the table with them and ate a little."

"Mr. Henry soon after appeared at the door and was there possibly ten minutes. He asked me to go home and I said I would if he would come in a bit and put down the gun. I talked to him as best I could and hoped he would soon quiet down. Mr. Ezard talked to him too and told him not to shoot him for the sake of his wife and children. Several remarks passed and again he asked me to come out and threatened to shoot if I didn't. We told him to come and be good or we would call for help but he said no one could go to the telephone under penalty of trouble."

Throws Wife Into Yard.

"When I saw how crazed he was I stepped behind him and tried to get the gun away from him. He struggled and I called Mr. Ezard who was still sitting at the table to come and help us. As we were struggling one barrel went off and the lead went through the partition in the room. That put out the lamp on the table and the room was dark. As Mr. Ezard rose to come to my assistance the second barrel went off and he received the whole load in his body and fell to the floor. Mr. Henry then turned on me and said he had no more shells but would kill me anyway. He knocked me down, struck me with the gun, kicked me in the face and threw me into the yard and I suppose he thought I was dead."

"He then turned and went into the house and saw Mrs. Ezard at the telephone and pulled her away. She said:

"You have killed my man."

"I don't care if I have," was the response.

"He went on through the house and was seen no more there. He went on home, took some more shells, kissed the children and told them he was going away and said they must be good. He then left."

"I soon found I was not dangerously hurt so I jumped up and ran around the house and hid behind the cellar door. When I was satisfied he had left I entered the house and put a pillow under Mr. Ezard's head and called the doctors but he was soon dead."

Mrs. Henry keeps up bravely but she is under terrible strain and repeatedly said she wished her husband had killed her instead of Mr. Ezard. Mrs. Ezard is obliged to keep up on account of her little babe and other children though she is overcome with grief. Her sister, Mrs. Taylor is with her and kind friends and neighbors are doing all that can be done under the circumstances. C. E. Henry, father of the man who did the shooting is utterly undone and groans continually. He is overcome with grief and seems on the verge of entire collapse."

While Mrs. Henry thinks her husband secured his liquor in 'dry Jacksonville' others in Woodson are of the opinion that he must have secured it in that place as he seemed absolutely normal and natural as late as five in the afternoon and they think if he had been drinking earlier than that he would have shown it. Mrs. Henry Expects Husband Back.

While almost every one was certain he would commit suicide, Mrs. Henry said she looked for him home that night and certainly the next morning and thought it strange that he failed to appear."

The Ezard home presented a sickening spectacle after the awful tragedy: blood was spattered about the room and even on the porch floor the sanguinary gore was much in evidence. With great effort it had been pretty well cleaned up but traces of it may yet appear for some time to come.

Mr. Henry must have been peculiarly crazed for his little boy said that generally his mother could manage his father when the latter was under the influence of liquor, but this time he seemed utterly crazed and hardly knew what he was doing although he seemed so cool and collected with it all. The two families are close neighbors and have ever been on the best of terms and the fearful tragedy is overwhelming and the afflicted ones seem dazed and hardly able to realize the awful calamity which has befallen them.

When Mr. Henry first missed his wife from his house he asked the children where she was and they said they didn't know and they said he hunted all around and looked under the bed for her and then got his gun which caused them to warn her.

George Owen rode down from Jacksonville on the train with Henry and said he noticed John was looking pale and bad and asked him what was the matter. John replied that he had been ill and had gone to consult a doctor. Mr. Owen mentioned the matter to another man whom he met.

John Henry must have hastened with all his might from the Ezard home for it was not long before he fired the second fatal shot. He went to his own home as stated, secured more cartridges and proceeded to the home of Everett Crain, west of Irlam's store at Midway.

Mrs. Crain's Statement.

To a Journal reporter Mrs. Crain said substantially: "It was about a quarter past seven; I was in the kitchen and heard a rather faint knock at the front door. Two ladies had just passed. Mrs. Cooper and I went to the door and saw a man who was very pale and seemed to come in and make us a visit. A young man named Thurston who was working for us went to open the door and our boy Oswald, seven years old, went to see who was there. It was rather dark but he felt sure he recognized the voice of John Henry who told him to call his papa out as he wanted to see him."

Mr. Crain answered from within the house:

"Come in."

"No, I want you to come out; I have some special business with you."

"Who is it?" Mr. Crain said, and moved toward the door and leaned partly around it and at that moment the fatal shot was fired, the whole load lodging in Mr. Crain's breast. He turned and reeled across the room. His younger boy ran to see what was the matter and received the second shot in the back of his head and his brains were scattered all about the room. Oswald said it was John Henry who did it."

The walls of the room, the curtains and furniture all showed the effect of the awful tragedy and it was well nigh impossible to remove the marks left by the shot.

Mrs. Crain said the motive of Mr. Henry was a mystery. He had borrowed money of her husband and repaid it all on good terms. The men appeared to be the best of friends and always met pleasantly. One day Mr. Crain bought a colt at a sale and as he was leading it home Mr. Henry met him and made some pleasant remarks about the animal. They had had various dealings as is the case generally with men of the same neighborhood or vicinity though they lived perhaps three fourths of a mile apart. On the one hand Mr. Henry seemed crazed with liquor and on the other hand he was so cool and collected when he went to his house after killing Mr. Ezard and talked so composedly with his children. It was reported that he said he had done one job and now had to do another before he was through though this was not traced to any definite source.

All people in Woodson united in giving him a good name as a man successful in business, kind in his family, good disposition, honorable in dealing and always all right when not under the influence of liquor.

Time of Inquest Uncertain.

Coroner G. W. Wright has empaneled the following jury to investigate the shooting: S. J. Baxter, foreman; H. H. Shelton, Ball Fitzsimmons, T. M. Whitlock, J. W. McAllister and J. W. Woods, clerk. The taking of testimony will consume considerable time as there are a great many witnesses to examine and States Attorney Tilton will have a shorthand reporter present to get a full record. The time of holding the inquest has not been determined, but will be either Saturday or Monday. There has been some talk of holding the hearing in the court house here, but a number of Woodson citizens are opposed to that believing that it would be more convenient for the witnesses to attend in Woodson.

To Hold Triple Funeral.

A triple funeral will be held at the Christian church Friday morning at 10:30. Dr. G. W. Miller will officiate, assisted by Rev. Ira C. Smith and Rev. J. L. Coleman. Charles Ezard will be buried in Diamond Grove cemetery and Mr. Crain and his son in Asbury cemetery.

Will Give Aid.

Officers of the Anti-horse Thief association yesterday made arrangements to give aid to the sheriff or to assist in guarding Woodson homes. Everett Crain was a member of the association.

MEREDOSIA WAS SWAMPED IN BASKETBALL GAME

Jacksonville High Runs Up a Score of 99 to 9 Against Visitors—Second Team Wins From Chapin 45 to 5.

The Jacksonville high school basketball team, scarcely had a good practice game Wednesday evening, when they defeated the Meredosia high school five, by the big score of 99 to 9. It was manifest ten minutes after the game started that the visitors were outclassed and the local men threw baskets at will. During the contest Boxell made 15 baskets, E. Pyatt, 16; Reynolds, 9; A. Smith, 4; J. Pyatt, 3; Boxell got one foul goal. Meredosia made three field goals and three foul goals.

As a curtain raiser, the second J. H. S. team played against the Chapin team, whom they defeated by a score of 45 to 5. The big score decisively wipes out the first game between the two teams when Chapin won by a score of 11 to 9. The lineup of the second team follows: Whitlock, c; Wait and Mayer (Capt) forwards; Strawn and Sutherland, guards; Swain and Ricks, sub-forwards; Hembrough acted also as a guard on the first team.

Clarence Fuller refereed both games. Saturday Jacksonville plays at Keokuk and the second team will go to White Hall Friday night, to play the high school team of that place.

SIXTEEN-YEAR OLD DAUGHTER

OF LATE MAYOR GAYNOR WEDS

Marriage to Ralph H. Isham, 23 Years, Comes as Surprise to Friends of the Family.

New York, Jan. 28.—Sixteen-year-old Marion Gaynor, fourth and youngest daughter of the late Mayor William J. Gaynor was married here today to Ralph Heywood Isham, son of Henry Heywood Isham, New Jersey capitalist and president of the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland railroad.

The wedding came as a surprise to friends of the family but it was explained that no formal announcement of the engagement had been made owing to the recent death of the bride's father. For the same reason only members of the family were present today.

City officials were among the guests at a reception later in the day.

Owing to the youth of the bride the license was obtained by her mother, whose consent to the marriage was necessary. Mrs. Gaynor motored to the Brooklyn borough hall and took the license to the Gaynor family home, where Miss Gaynor and Mr. Isham signed it.

Mr. Isham, who is 23 years old, spent a year at Yale and then traveled abroad. He returned recently to manage some of his father's interests. He is a descendant of Jonathan Trumbull, first governor of Connecticut. As Miss Gaynor, Mrs. Isham drove an automobile and was a winner at the horse show at Belmont park and at Madison Square Garden. Mr. and Mrs. Isham will leave tomorrow for Santa Barbara, Calif., where the elder Isham is ill.

Every one now can eat meat. See list of special prices, page 7; Widmayer's.

THREW BIG ROCK INTO C. AND A. CAR WINDOW

Three Passengers Have Narrow Escape on Train Near Mitchell, Ill., When Missile Shatters Glass.

Recently while the Chicago & Alton passenger train of which E. C. Carpenter of this city is conductor, was passing through Mitchell, Ill., at a good rate of speed, some unknown person threw a large stone at the train, which went through one of the windows. The glass flew in all directions and among those injured by the flying pieces were Stewart Pierson of Carrollton, Mr. Brown, a lumber merchant of Carrollton and another man from Manchester. A physician happened to be on the train and the men's injuries were dressed.

The stone was of large size and the thick glass broke its speed, the missile going to the other side of the coach and landing in a passenger's lap.

BEGIN PERFECTION OF INTER- STATE TRADE COMMISSION BILL

Senate Committee Decides No Public Hearing Other Than Those of House Will be Necessary.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Perfection of the inter-state trade commission bill, introduced in the senate and house last week as the first of the anti-trust legislative measures of the administration was begun today by the senate committee on inter-state commerce. It was determined at the outset that no public hearings other than those to be held by the house committees would be necessary, an amendment proposed today would limit to a certain extent the public feature of the measure by prescribing particularly that no trade process list of customers or like trade secrets submitted to the commission by corporations should be made public. As the bill now stands all information concerning the business of corporations is required to be made a matter of public record.

president, he would receive my support and I would obey his commands," said General Villa. "As proof of my loyalty and as evidence that I have no ambition to become president I would leave the country if he ordered me to do so."

General Villa's interview was given in his little plastered abode house where he went immediately on his arrival from Chihuahua. On the floor in the front room where he stood were sixteen bags each containing 10,000 Mexican dollars and on the window sill were a half dozen newly purchased diamond rings still glittering in their plush boxes. The coin was purchased from the banks in El Paso for use in Chihuahua where silver has become scarce and the diamond rings were presents for various rebel officers.

General Villa was garbed in a newly made dark olive uniform the first uniform he ever wore. The rebel leader listened with a blank incredulous expression to questions put to him but answered with a show of characteristic fierceness in his clinched fist and black gleaming eyes.

"I have never been in anything but fullest accord with General Carranza," said General Villa. "I never had any personal ambition to reach high office. I am a fighting man only and I am fighting for the liberation of my country not to elevate myself."

"I wish all of the nations of the world to know that I am not fighting to make myself president"—and here General Villa brought both his clenched fists through the air by way of emphasis. "We are not fighting to make any man president but we hope once for all to save our country from spoliation and the ambitions of individuals."

"We are spreading the ideals of a republic and we are exterminating those who oppose us."

"In a few months we have liberated half of Mexico and in a few months more we shall liberate the other half."

General Villa came to Juarez to negotiate with business interests for the resumption of industry in Chihuahua state and also to procure small coin circulation in the rebel territory. He plans to start a mint and a bank as soon as possible. He said on his return to Chihuahua he would prepare personally to command an attack on Torreon.

Various sums of money were said to have been paid the rebels for the safe conduct to the border of forty-eight members of Terrazas family. Among the late refugees were Mrs. Luis Terrazas, wife of one of the richest men in Mexico and many children and grand-children and thirty servants. Luis Terrazas, Jr., still was held in Chihuahua, however.

A train load of rebels today was sent to Guzman, 85 miles south of the border to learn the fate of passengers including 25 Americans who were reported by Maximo Castello's bandits on the Mexico Northwestern railroad.

The bandits after attacking the train were said to have burned all the bridges. The rebels were instructed to capture and execute Castello, who operating independently, has created terror in Western Chihuahua for months.

ORGANIZATION WILL NO JOIN IN ATTACK ON DEMOCRATIC PARTY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Medill McCormick as chairman of the congressional committee of the National American Women Suffrage association wrote President Wilson tonight declaring that the organization of which she was a member proposed no political party and would not join in any attack on the Democratic party.

"In view of the fact that the congressional union for woman suffrage," wrote Mrs. McCormick, "has publicly announced a policy contemplating an attack upon the Democratic party as a whole and fearing lest this small group of suffragists, acting under un-American and militant methods, prejudice our cause, will you permit us to make clear that our organization, the National American Woman Suffrage association, being strictly non-partisan emphatically condemns this policy."

DISTINGUISHED PASSENGERS OF THE WARRIOR FACE DEATH

Steamer Almirante Affects Perilous Rescue of Vanderbilt Party After Fruit Steamer Had Failed.

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—Death faced the party aboard Frederick W. Vanderbilt's yacht Warrior, probably for hours after the craft, with its distinguished passengers was wrecked on a reef off the coast of Columbia Monday according to fragments of wireless messages picked up here tonight. The messages told of heroic but futile efforts made by the United Fruit company's steamer Frutera to save those on board. Captain Henschel finally was forced to summon the steamer Almirante which effected a perilous rescue. All the Frutera's life boats either were smashed or capsized. Those on board the Almirante are Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester and Lord Arthur George Keith-Falconer son and heir of the Earl of Kintore.

Soon after the Warrior struck the Frutera picked up her wireless appeal for aid and steamed toward the wreck. Although the sea was running high Captain Henschel lowered boats. One of them capsized and the others were crushed. The Almirante, which was at Santa Marta, about 40 miles distant then was called and succeeded in taking off all the Warrior's passengers, although the undertaking was attended with great peril. The Almirante is due to arrive at Colon tomorrow morning. It is understood the Vanderbilt party will proceed to New York on the Almirante, arriving there Feb. 5.

Nothing was learned tonight regarding the fate of the wrecked yacht and its crew, who remained on board despite the advice of the owner and the captains of the Frutera and Almirante to leave the vessel.

The coast at the scene of the mishap is dangerous and with adverse winds it is feared the Warrior will be seriously damaged. The crew probably could get aid from Santa Marta in case the yacht began to break up.

URGES GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF LINES

Washington, Jan. 28.—Representative Bryan, Washington, in house today advocated government ownership of railroads generally and the Alaska project in particular. He declared that the power of the United States government was slight compared with that of the great railroads, "which has challenged American institutions and the sovereignty of the government."

TESTIMONY REGARDING HIGHWAY REPAIR WORK WILL BE HEARD

Road in Montgomery County, N. Y., Is Said To Have Been Re-surfaced at an Over-charge of $11,724.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Commissioner James W. Osborne, ordered the testimony taken before him today concerning highway repair work in Montgomery county referred to the district attorney of that county with a request for grand jury action. The work was performed by the Minonk Construction company of Amsterdam of which Peter V. Baird, described as a friend of Joseph J. Murphy, retired Democratic leader of Troy, is president. Mr. Osborne characterized as grand larceny the manner in which the contract was obtained and the work performed. He also expressed the opinion that the highway contracts in this county were controlled by a "political colony" consisting of Senator William Gardner, Joe Murphy of Troy and other political leaders.

The road, four miles stretch between Canajoharie and Sharon Springs, was built in 1902 at a cost of $33,000 and re-surfaced in 1912 at a cost of approximately of $24,000. In addition to this a supplemental agreement had been drawn but never signed which would have brought the re-surfacing cost up to $37,000. A. S. Myrick, a highway department engineer testified today the price paid was $11,724 in excess of a proper charge for work. Mr. Osborne promised to inquire further into the reason while Charles F. Murphy Jr., nephew of the leader of Tammany hall and a bonding agent, sent a telegram to Daniel L. Mott, highway contractor of Utica, offering to "execute" a contract which had been awarded to Mott, August 25, 1913. In this connection it was brought out that there were sixty contracts one of which was Mott's, held up in the office of the state comptroller pending an investigation by experts of the department of efficiency and economy.

SUIT AGAINST SENATOR GORE SOON TO BE HEARD IN COURT

Mrs. Julien Bond of Oklahoma City Asks for $50,000 Damages for Alleged Injury to Her Reputation.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 28.—When the district court of Oklahoma county convenes for the February term next week one of the first cases that will be brought up for trial, according to present expectations, will be the $50,000 suit filed by Mrs. Julien R. Bond of this city against United States Senator Thos. P. Gore, Oklahoma's "blind man eloquent." Both sides in the case hint that the trial will develop some sensational features that were not brought to light when the charges against Senator Gore were aired in Washington a year or more ago.

Mrs. Bond, the plaintiff, is 31 years old, and is the wife of Julien R. Bond of this city. She is of medium size and rather striking appearance. Her first husband was a dentist, whom she married at 18, while he still had another wife. After her first marriage had been annulled she became a teacher of shorthand and was thus employed when she met and married Bond.

In her suit against Senator Gore the woman asks $50,000 for alleged damages to her reputation following alleged advances made to her in Washington when she called to see the senator in the interests of her husband's candidacy for the position of internal revenue collector.

Mrs. Bond says that when she first saw Senator Gore in his private office he seized hold of one of her hands and her mesh bag, and that when he seized hold of one of her feet as she sat talking to him she thought it time to go. He told her to see him again, she said. The second time they met in a room at her hotel, she said. At that time he attempted to seize hold of her as she sat on the bed, she testified, and that when her glasses had been broken in trying to avoid him she called for help and left in company with men who came to her assistance.

Friends of Mr. Gore have not hesitated to declare their belief that the whole affair, as described by the woman in her testimony in Washington, was a "plant" framed up by the political enemies of the blind senator to ruin his public career. Others ascribe the woman's action to a desire for revenge upon Senator Gore because he did not secure for her husband the political appointment he sought.

In view of the fact that Senator Gore is now a candidate for reelection the approaching trial and its outcome are awaited with keen interest in political circles in Oklahoma. Many persons well known in Oklahoma political circles are involved in the case. James Jacobs, formerly chairman of the Democratic central committee of Oklahoma, and who has been prominent in politics for more than twenty years, is one of the chief witnesses against Senator Gore. Another is Kirby Fitzpatrick, land title attorney to the state board of public land commissioners and a brother to the late Congressman Fitzpatrick of Tennessee.

ADJOURN TO AMEND ASSESSMENT ROLL.

Mauvalsterre Drainage District Case Is Adjourned Until Next Wednesday by Court.

The jury which is to consider the Mauvalsterre Drainage district case was finally selected Wednesday morning and is composed of the following jurors: E. W. Kitner, Sherman Luttrell, C. E. Cussins, T. E. Rea, Thomas Harrison, James Mahon, John F. Burrus, Pat Quigley, Pat Devlin, Jerry Cox, M. A. Hulet and Frank Lindsay.

The commissioner's roll of assessments were taken up and the afternoon was spent in argument on that question. The court granted leave to amend the roll of assessments and adjourned until Wednesday, February 4th, when court will reconvene to consider the case at 1:30 o'clock. When the railroads interested in the case, namely, the C. B. & Q., C. P. & St. L., and C. & A., were assessed by the commissioners the benefits to be derived by them were problematical and the roads were allowed to file stipulation for lesser assessments. When the case was settled with the roads and lesser amounts assessed them, this left the total amount assessed insufficient to pay for the work proposed. Consequently the assessment roll must now be amended and the adjournment of the court was taken to give the attorneys time to do so.

The circuit court will be in session the first two days of next week.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

We, the members of Pisgah church, and Sabbath school, by death bereft of a beloved and former pastor, Rev. W. L. Tarbet; do resolve to hereby express our love and respect for this aged and honored servant of our Lord who has gone on before to the heavenly home.

Resolved, that we recognize as a direct blessing from God the great privilege of having been allowed to sit for fifteen years under his teaching and guidance during the period of our lives when impressions are most easily and most indelibly made.

We shall never forget his words of earnest entreaty and kind sympathetic counsel; but shall ever remember him as an eloquent preacher of the gospel and staunch defender of the faith. One who encouraged us to high ideals of thought and living.

Resolved, also; that we express the debt of gratitude felt by this whole community toward Rev. Mr. Tarbet and his noble wife, Mrs. Martha Tarbet, and that we assure Mrs. Tarbet, their son, William, and daughter, Emma, that they have our sincere sympathy in this hour of their bereavement.

THE GREAT MISSIONARY GATHERING

Sunday and Monday Will Be Devoted to the Work With Meetings In Various Places.

Regarding the missionary rally to be held here Sunday and Monday next J. C. White, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary movement says:

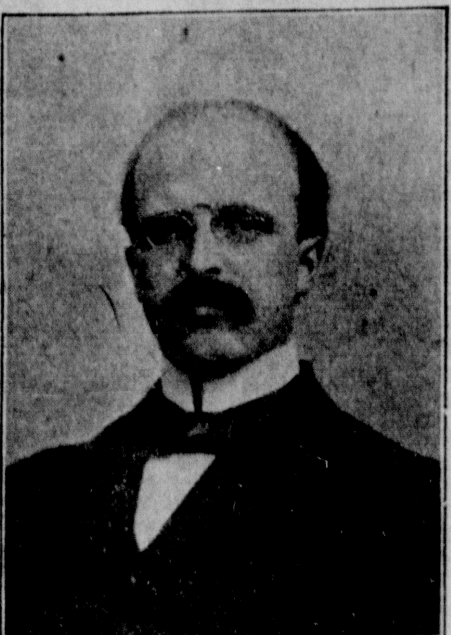

What has led the leaders of all the Protestant church of America to plan for a simultaneous canvass for all missions and benevolences next

DR. J. T. ATCHISON, of Chicago, Ill., who will be here.

March? And what are some of the results that may reasonably be expected from this great combined effort?

One of the most powerful arguments for the simultaneous canvass on the part of all churches is undoubtedly the marked success that has attended this plan in three different denominations. The first denomination to try out the plan was the United Presbyterian church.

DR. L. O. BAIRD, Western Secretary American Missionary Association will be here.

Briefly summarized, the canvass increased the regular income of the various Mission Boards of the Church from $580,169 in 1912 to $739,452 in 1913, or a gain of $159,283 per member for the whole denomination in a single year.

And there must be added to the above figures a large amount contributed by their Women's Missionary Society, and bringing up the total of their missionary giving to $853,569 for 1912-13, or an average of $6.11 per member for their entire constituency. The nearest approach to this that has yet been discovered is the Baptist Church, of Ontario and Quebec, with 55,000 members, who this past year gave $220,000 to all missionary purposes, an average of $4 per member. This has been increased from $103,000 since 1908. Very few denominations average over $3 per member, and the Protestant churches of America as a whole, only average about $2 per member per year to all missionary purposes. It is also worthy of note that while the United Presbyterian Church added $1.12 per member for missionary purposes, they also added $1.07 per member for other purposes. The average per member to all purposes in this church is now $20.97, which is the highest yet discovered for a whole denomination.

The other two denominations that made a similar simultaneous canvass in 1913, were the Reformed Church in the United States and the Southern Presbyterian, both of which made unprecedented increases in the amounts subscribed and in the number of churches actually making the canvass.

At the present time, about forty million dollars annually are being contributed by American church to home and foreign missionary work of all kinds, over 60 per cent of this amount being for mission work at home. By this simultaneous canvass, it is hoped that some millions of dollars annually will be added to the income of the various missionary agencies of the churches. It is also perfectly evident that the churches can all do their best work by close co-operation, rather than in isolation from each other. "Comprehension is half way to sympathy," and it comes only by contact.

BROKERS OPPOSE OWEN BILL.

Washington, Jan. 28.—When Senator Owen's bill for the regulation of stock exchanges comes up for a hearing next week it is expected that leading members of the New York Stock Exchange, at which the measure is aimed, will oppose the essential proposals on the ground that the government itself should do what it seeks to make the exchange accomplish. The bill is the outgrowth of the Pujo "money trust" inquiry. It gives the New York Stock Exchange the option of incorporating under the New York laws or placing itself under the direction of the postmaster general.

The representatives of the exchange will argue against incorporation on the ground that disciplinary powers would be largely taken away by the disruption of the present club organization. In lieu of the provisions of the Owen bill to safeguard investors by making the listing requirements more stringent the exchange representatives will argue that the government itself, through enactment of a bill similar to the British companies act, should control the issuance of corporation securities.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Only two national banks out of the 7,570 in the United States so far have notified the treasury department that they do not expect to enter the new federal reserve system and will forfeit their charters. Nearly 6,000 banks have signified in formal fashion their intention to enter the system.

SISTER CAROLINE'S USEFUL LIFE IS CLOSED

Former Head of Passavant Hospital Dead in Milwaukee After Long Illness.

Sister Caroline Ochse passed away Monday night at 9:45 at the Milwaukee hospital after a long and lingering illness.

Sister Caroline was born in Waldeck, Germany, April 11, 1859 and at the age of 22 came to this country and associated herself with Dr. Passavant in his blessed hospital work. Seeing the need of better special education she returned to Germany and took a special course in a training school at Kaiserwerth returning to this country in 1875 when she was assigned to the care of the orphans at Rochester, Pennsylvania.

In 1879 she came to this country and was associated with Sister Louise Marthens in the management of Passavant hospital in this city and when Sister Louise gave out Sister Caroline took charge being in this city twenty years in all. She was then assigned to the charge of the home for epileptics at Rochester, Penn., and remained there till 1904 when she took a trip to her native land hoping it would improve her failing health though in that she was not much gratified. On her return to this country she went to the Milwaukee hospital and mother house where she did everything possible with her failing strength. Last June she gave up entirely and finally heart trouble caused by her other infirmities ended her life.

She was one of the pioneers of the Lutheran Deaconess' work in this country and served in it 39 years, longer than any other person living here. She had a peculiarly lovable character and wherever she went all were attached to her. In the early days of Passavant hospital the accommodations were very inadequate and she endured many hardships and exposures which undermined her health and caused her break down much earlier than would otherwise have been the case. She was undying in her labors of love and never so happy as when serving others. She was a devoted Christian and loved her Lord and Master and delighted to serve His little ones. She was peculiarly beloved in this city and wherever she served it was the same and her reward will be glorious. The funeral will be conducted from the Lutheran Deaconess' Mother house in Milwaukee at two this p. m.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW INFLUENCES ABSENT FROM THE STOCK EXCHANGE

Reaction in Market Is Looked for Before Resumption of Advance Can Be Expected
---Reading Holds First Place

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—In the absence of new influences to give direction to speculative effort, the stock market today traveled over much the same ground as in the preceding session. The first tendency was downward, after which the market rose above yesterday's close. The upturn lacked stability, however.

It was the general opinion that a reaction was to be looked for before resumption of the advance could be expected but the strong demand on recent downward swings made the shorts fearful of offering stocks freely.

Reading held first place in the market on account of vigorous buying, which for a time held the stock well over the general level. Exceptional weakness prevailed in the Rock Island stocks and bonds, leading to discussion of financial problems, which the company may be called upon to solve. The tobacco stocks as a group were strong. Reports of improvement in the copper trade gave a better tone to the copper stocks after a drop earlier in the day. Sales of the metal were made at 14½ cents. London reversed its attitude in this market disposing of about 15,000 shares of the stock purchased here yesterday for foreign account. There was a further slump of money rates and for the first time in months commercial paper was placed under four per cent.

CATARRHAL JELLY

REV. MR. TARBET HAD SPENT LONG LIFE IN MINISTRY

Served For Nearly Half Century in Churches of Morgan and Adjoining Counties—His Record Worthy of Rugged Scotch Ancestry.

The death of Dr. Tarbet at the family home at Divernon, Ill., on Friday morning, January 23, 1914, closed the earthly ministry of one of the most widely known, respected and honored Presbyterian ministers of central Illinois, and therefore deserves more than a passing notice.
For nearly half a century he served churches in Morgan and adjoining counties, and for several years was a resident of Jacksonville. Many of the readers of the Journal have been his parishioners, many more knew him, and these with still many others will be interested in a sketch of his life.

He was of Scotch ancestry, his great-grandfather Tarbet coming from Scotland to this country before the Revolution and settling in the valley of Virginia between the mountain ranges, in or near what is now Augusta county. From this region his more immediate ancestors drifted to the south west into eastern Tennessee, for it was near Maryville, Blount county, in that state that he was born August 8, 1825. His boy-hood home was built of pine logs, and fat pine knots served instead of electric lights. Life was in all respects of the primitive type, and no doubt these early associations and influences fixed upon his character that directness and simplicity which commanded him to the confidence and favor of all who knew him.

In the latter part of 1833 the family moved by flatboat down the Tennessee river to Savannah, Hardin county, in the western part of the state, where he received his preparatory training until the fall of 1844,
when he entered Jackson college, Columbia, Tenn. From this he was graduated in 1847, and spent the next year teaching in his home town, Savannah. In the fall of 1848 he entered Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, making the entire journey by steamboat.
He completed his theological course in the spring of 1851, and in the fall of the same year began teaching in the academy at Lawrenceburg, Tenn., and at the same time prepared for licensure and ordination, this latter service occur-ing in October, 1852. Soon afterward he began his ministerial work by supplying the Richland and Cornersville churches. It was while so engaged that on June 13, 1854, he was united in marriage with Miss Emma Hall Calvert of Bowling Green, Kentucky. In the fall of 1854 he went to Nashville where he labored nearly a year on a missionary enterprise of the Synod. In the fall of 1855 he began to supply Bethel church, continuing three years.

Already the mutterings that preceded the great civil war were being heard, and impression was formed that the Tarbets were in sympathy with the North instead of the South.
In the summer of 1858 Mr. Tarbet made a prospecting tour through Illinois, stopping near Carlinville, spending half a day in Virden
and a short time in Springfield.
Soon after returning to Tennessee he received an urgent call to the pastorate of the Virden church.
Believing it best to leave the South, he accepted the call and began his work on the second Sabbath of May, 1859. The town then had a population of four hundred, and the church thirty-eight members. He led in a vigorous campaign against the saloons of the town which ended in triumph.
With the outbreak of the civil war in 1861 he gave his support to the cause of the Union, and assisted in raising the 122d Regiment commanded by Col. John I. Rinkner. He was well acquainted with President Lincoln, and was a member of the reception committee on the occasion of the funeral service for the lamented President in Springfield. For six years during his pastorate at Virden he preached Sabbath afternoons for the Brush Creek, now Divernon, church.

The pastorate at Virden covered twenty-one years, closing in May, 1880, when Mr. Tarbet responded to a unanimous call to the Presbyterian church of Carrollton, Ill. This pastorate continued three years. In 1883 he entered upon his work with the Pisgah and Unity church in Morgan county. In 1890 the Unity church was transferred to Woodson, and his entire time was given to Pisgah until April 24, 1898, when he closed his labors in that field.

In the fall of 1899 he removed to Jacksonville, residing at 716 West College street, and supplying temporarily various churches until the fall of 1902 when he accepted an invitation to supply the Divernon church regularly for a period of three years, or until the autumn of 1905, when he should reach the age of fourscore years. Even after this he supplied other churches occasionally, and when the Divernon church again became vacant he supplied it regularly for several months.
His last public service was to conduct a funeral on the day after last Thanksgiving Day.

That Dr. Tarbet was a man of great physical endurance was abundantly shown by the long and arduous service he rendered, extending far beyond the decade ministerial "dead line" which has been supposed to limit the period of acceptable work. His bodily presence was not weak, and his voice was powerful. He was a man of God who proclaimed with no uncertain sound the Lord's message. In his ministrations he was fearless, yet he had the grace of personal modesty as is beautifully witnessed by the fact that he had repeatedly declined the offer of the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity before he was finally induced to accept it from Blackburn college in 1894, which institution he had served as a trustee and secretary of the board for more than a quarter of a century. Concerning this incident he wrote: "I have never sought such things. A well spent life, one filled up with deeds of kindness and love, with honest efforts to promote the best interests of fallen humanity, is more to be desired than all the semi-lunar fardels that ever emanated from the halls or seats of worldly learning. I do not despise these tokens of human appreciation, but regard the 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant' of the Master, far more to be desired."

At his own request in 1908 the Presbytery of Springfield placed Dr.
Tarbet's name on its roll of honorably retired members. During the leisure of his closing years he spent much time in the study of the Scriptures, reading them diligently in the original languages.

His life must have contained many joyful experiences, yet it was not without its sorrows, as the wife of his youth and three of their children were called from his earthly fellowship. A son and a daughter survive: William L., and Emma Hall Tarbet. On September 1, 1891, he was united in marriage with Miss Martha A. Potter, who also survives him.

During his stay in Jacksonville,
Dr. Tarbet was a member of the Literary Union, serving as its president.

This last illness was brief. Suffering from asthma, an attack of grip of a week's duration resulted fatally at 6:30 o'clock, Friday morning, January 23, 1914. His age was 88 years, 5 months, 15 days.

The facts given above are taken mainly from an exceedingly interesting autobiography left by Dr. Tar-bet, the last entry in which bears the date March 7, 1911.

The funeral service was held in the Divernon church Monday, Jan.
26, at 10 a. m., and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. A. King, assisted by Drs. W. H. Penhallegon and A. C. Carson of Springfield who offered prayer at the home. The service was very simple, in accordance with the written instructions left by Dr. Tarbet directing that no sermon be preached, no eulogy or personal remarks be spoken, and prescribing the passages of Scripture and the hymns that should be used.
The Scripture passages were 2 Cor.
V: 1-10, 1 Cor. XV: 35-58, 1 Thess.
IV: 13-18, Rev. XXI: 1-5. A large audience was present, many of them from other fields which he had served. The interment was in the Virden cemetery.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undig-ested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxative or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—adv.

OLD TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.
It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETING AT 4TH. WARD SCHOOL

Organization Holds First Meeting of Year and Elects Officers.

The first meeting of the Fourth Ward Parent-Teacher Association was held at the Ward School Building Wednesday afternoon with a large attendance. The address of the afternoon was made by the Rev. G. W. Flagg of Centenary M. E. church and officers were elected for the year. The officers:

President—Mrs. Truman P. Carter.

Vice president—Mrs. Harry M. Capps.

Secretary and treasurer—Miss Ann Stevenson.

The first number on the program was a violin solo by M. L. Swarthout, accompanied by his brother, D. M. Swarthout, playing "Souvenir" by S. Drida. Miss Flossie Cox of the Illinois College Conservatory sang "Four Cautionary Tales and a Moral" by Liza Lehman, to the accompaniment of Miss Marguerite Butler. The program was followed by a social hour at which entertainment was furnished by some folk dancing by children of the primary grades. Light refreshments were served, in charge of Mrs. Harriet Lander.

Rev. Mr. Flagg spoke on the needs of the schools and the value of the co-operation of the parents. Great responsibilities rest alike on parents and teachers and constant co-operation is essential for scientific training of the mind, the implanting of ideas of obedience and the eradication of bad habits. Both are responsible for the child's well-being and both must work together for the best results.

Mrs. James H. Danskin, the outgoing president acted as chairman.

PHYSICIANS SEND HOME TWENTY FOUR.

As a result of the examination of pupils in the public schools, Monday it was found that only twenty-four were advised to remain at home. That the health of the pupils is safe guarded in a great measure by the heads of the various schools, is evidenced from the findings. It is not uncommon for a principal to detect illness in a child and inform them that they must consult a physician before returning. It is probable that another examination will be made next Monday, but this is at the discretion of the Health Warden. The pupils kept at home by the last investigation follows: high school, 7; first ward, 1; second ward, 9; third ward, 6; fourth ward, 6; 5th grade, 1; first ward branch, 2; third ward branch, 1; Parochial school, 0.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT ASSN.

WILL MEET AT STILLWATER

Minnesota Town is Chosen As Place of Annual Convention For June 17 and 18.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—The annual convention of the Upper Mississippi Improvement association will be held at Stillwater, Minn., June 17 and 18 next. The decision was reached by the executive council of the association which adjourned tonight after a two days' session.

The plan of river terminals advocated by the executive council will be presented at the convention and will be discussed by river terminal experts of the five states comprising the association.

In discussing the project tonight President Thomas Wilkinson of Burlington, Ia., said he was certain of the ultimate success of the plan as outlined at the executive session.

With the completion of the Panama canal, he said the natural transportation route would be over the Mississippi river and while the handling of freight in this manner would mean a loss to the eastern markets and to the railroads the decrease in cost of transportation would reduce the cost of living in the central and northwestern states. Mr. Wilkinson said that under the proposed system the cost of freight transportation would be cut in half.

FARMERS WILL PRESENT CASE BEFORE UTILITIES COMMISSION

Illinois Farmers Grain Dealers' Association Seeks to Prevent Increase of Freight Rates on Grain—Hearing Feb. 3.

The Illinois Utilities commission will meet at Springfield, Tuesday, Feb. 3, to pass upon the justice of proposed increase of freight rates on shipments through the state and the farmers and elevator men are making special preparations for a large delegation to go before the commission at the time stated and present their case as opposed to the claims of the railroads who maintain the necessity of higher grain freight tariffs. The case for the farmers will be presented by the Illinois Grain Dealers association and the Illinois Farmers Grain Dealers' association and adequate legal talent has been retained to argue against the proposed increase of one per cent per hundred pounds on all grain shipped from the state and resist the claims of the railroad representatives who insist upon the fairness of the higher rate.

The Illinois Farmers' Grain Dealers' association is planning to send a delegation of one thousand men to appear before the commission and Morgan county is expected to send one hundred as its quota. A. C. Rice, vice president of the Farmers Grain Dealers' association has been active in arousing interest in this community and a large number have already signified their intention of taking a day off and help the cause along by going to Springfield and protesting against this action of the railroads.

The railroads have been endeavoring to secure the increase for about two years and secured permission last summer from the Interstate Commerce to charge one cent more on the hundred pounds, beginning Jan. 15, 1914. The State Utilities commission had been created meanwhile with a jurisdiction over such cases and the order of the first named commission was temporarily set aside. A hearing was held Jan. 6 but the farmers were not notified in time to secure a fair representation and it was postponed until Feb. 3.

The proposed increase applies to Illinois only and the farmers claim that it would be decidedly unfair. The one cent per hundred, or one half cent per bushel approximately, would be so much outlay from the farmer's pocket and would amount to a discrimination against the grain shippers of the state, working particular hardship on the grain shippers represented at the hearing and the Morgan county members of the association are hoping that a large number may see fit to make the trip to Springfield Tuesday.

CHICAGO GRAFT INVESTIGATION IS BECOMING COMPLICATED

Indictment Against Two Witnesses Charged With Conspiring to Thwart the Ends of Justice is Returned.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The wheels within wheels of vote fraud investigation and prosecution developed a new angle today with the return of indictments. An indictment charging Samuel Goldman and Henry Minsky with conspiring to thwart the ends of justice was returned and in it John E. Northup, special state's attorney appointed to prosecute the vote fraud cases, was named, but not as a defendant. Last spring when charges were made that Macclay Hoyne, state's attorney was the alleged beneficiary of ballots altered, he sought to conduct a grand jury investigation himself but after a spirited contest in court Northup was upheld. The county board refused to appropriate funds for the investigation whereupon Northup raised $15,000 by public subscription. The special grand jury which he conducted returned a number of indictments and last week two of the defendants were convicted. Other cases are due to be tried next week.

Paul W. Rothenberg was an investigator for Northup and was his principal witness before the grand jury. Northup alleges that after he had refused Rothenberg's demands for money the latter went to Hoyne and reported that his testimony was perjured. Goldman and Minsky said they had also been induced by Rothenberg to give false testimony before the grand jury. They were relied upon by Northup as witnesses for the state in the cases to be tried next week. In today's indictment it is alleged the defendants, with Northup and Rothenberg, conspired to place before the special grand jury testimony tending to show that in the election of Nov. 5th, 1912, Congressman A. J. Sabath, Morris Sabath and Morris Abrahams, hired persons to vote more than once in the fourth precinct of the 20th ward.
